The impact of smartphones on society

Phones are important to people. People can't function without them. Especially smartphones cos they have lots of apps on them like. For example my brother is always on the his phone playing angry birds. iPhones are the most popular because all friends have them. Jim Dalrymple talks about Android but I think Android isn't as good as iPhones . I found this websit that talks about smartphones

Although devices combining telephony and computing were conceptualized as early as 1973 and were offered for sale beginning in 1994, the term "smartphone" did not appear until 1997, when Ericsson described its GS 88 "Penelope" concept as a "Smart Phone"
